"Best day of the month!" - Upstate Student

BEST RETURN ON INVESTMENT

In 2017, we delivered 10,646 articles to your desktop from 1,981 unique journal titles at an expense of $34,614. The estimated cost for subscriptions to those journals is $3,404,402, almost ten times more expensive than purchasing articles on demand.

REFERENCE

Librarians engaged with over 6,000 customers across Upstate and our surrounding communities to provide expert services including:

- Individual and classroom instruction
- Comprehensive literature searches
- Specialized subject guides
- Systematic review collaboration
- Support for evidence-based patient care and policy review
- All academic areas, including clinical and community

LITERATURE SEARCHES

Last year our team of librarians completed 473 literature searches for Upstate colleagues and community members in support of patient care, research, education, and consumer health.

2017 PRESIDENT'S AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN LIBRARY SCIENCE

Virginia P. Young, MLS

This award recognizes excellence in librarianship with consideration given to sound scholarship and continuing professional growth demonstrated through publications, membership in professional organizations and service to Upstate Medical University.

Congratulations, Virginia!

ARCHIVES & SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

The Archives and Special Collections (ASC) department preserves archival records relating to the history of Upstate, including materials about Geneva College of Medicine (1834-1871) and Syracuse University College of Medicine (1872-1949). We also hold more than 12,000 rare books and journals dating to the 17th century and more than 300 pieces of antique medical and laboratory equipment. All ASC materials are available for use on the second floor of the Health Sciences Library.

Chronicled 173 events in Upstate Medical University's history in a virtual, interactive timeline.
